Thanks sam - that's what I thought too. There will need to be ongoing discussion with waterfront at an appropriate level on technical matters. Like you, I was also thinking that willie david and mike would need to be briefed only on the main technical background issues before meeting waterfront. I think that briefing would need to be summary of

What waterfront are asking for and why

What (if anything) we are able to give them now (especially in relation to west harbour road alignment - which seems to be their priority)

What we still need to work on and when they can expect that

Whether we should be telling them that there are things they can't have - eg new road crossings of tram route? On this last point, waterfront told us that if the problem with these was impact on business case, they would meet the extra costs imposed.

We would also want to explain what we need from waterfront ie

We need to go outside limits on their land to be able to build the tram

We would like information from them on utility locations.

Hope this helps sam

Ray

Dear all,

Just for clarity - when I suggested that Mike, David and Willie should meet with WEL asap, this was not primarily with the objective of taking forward the ongoing technical discussion - I'm assuming this will continue through the established channels. They will need background on the issues, progress, and the expected timescales for resolution, but the main purpose of this meeting will be to try and alleviate WEL's other concerns, in relation to the business case, commitment to phase 1b, overall programme, etc, and to assure WEL that engagement with them on this level will also be ongoing. Providing assurance on these fronts should help the technical negotiations to proceed as smoothly as possible afterwards. Hope this helps.

Hi Gavin (murray!)

See paul's e-mail below. I think this is pretty much what you, geoff and I discussed on monday. However, we first need to be clear on west harbour road alignment? Also, there is a range of other things that waterfront edinburgh are looking for. Some of these - ole design, tramstop design - I think you feek are ok to share now? Some - alignment, sharing cad drawings, road stopline positions - may need more work (and sign off) before we can give them anything. Some may be complete no no - creating new road crossings of tram route? I will forward to you what gavin clement has set out in an e-mail on several of these points. What is needed is a tie position on this informed by sds? And where more work is needed - a timetable? Please let me know if I can help,

Kind regards

Ray

Yes I would say it's sensible to brief Willie and Mike. I would think you/Gavin Murray should do this (?)

Cheers,

Paul.

Gavin

Here is Sam's e-mail regarding the need to have meeting arranged between Willie and WEL.

From Alan Couper's e-mail, the number one priority for WEL seems to be getting clarity on the tram alignment at West Harbour Road? I would expect that Willie and Mike would need to be briefed on that before any meeting?

Julie, as discussed, we need to arrange for Willie and David - and Mike Connolly - to meet with Waterfront Edinburgh fairly urgently. The contact is Alan Couper:

alan.couper@waterfront-ed.com, [REDACTED]

Could you also arrange for them for them to be briefed by Ray McMaster and Barry beforehand? Thanks.

Sam
